With over 4 million records in our collections, discover why DTIC is the DoD’s authoritative source for scientific and technical (S&T) information!

Search
Find current or past research data, discussions, or subject matter experts related to your project or topic of interest.

Journal of DoD Research and Engineering
Access peer-reviewed innovative articles that have the highest current and potential impacts on the warfighter’s mission.

DoD Budget Tools
Query and generate reports on research, development, test and evaluation budget data.

Information Analysis Centers
Learn about organizations chartered to help agencies research, analyze, and utilize existing scientific and technical information.
Research Projects

Customize, generate and analyze reports of ongoing and completed DoD-funded research and engineering activities from 6.1 to 6.4.

DoDTechipedia

Use our collective wiki to discover the latest research updates and news; store and share research data.

Defense Innovation Marketplace

Discover the ins and outs of working with the DoD and obtain timely notices about partnerships or business opportunities with industry and DoD.

International Agreements Database

Streamline the time-consuming and record-intensive process of international S&T collaboration.